

Woman: Excuse me, sir. Could you help me a second?

Man: Yeah. Sure. No problem. What can I help you with?

Woman: I'm trying to get to the Plaza and I don't know where I am or how to get there.

Man: Okay. Well, right now, we're on 42nd and Broadway. Um, since you're walking, I would probably walk over two blocks towards 5th Avenue and make a left. And walk approximately 17 blocks or so. You'll see the hotel on your left-hand side.

Woman: Do you know about how long that's gonna take?

Man: About 20 to 30 minutes.

Woman: Well, you know, I'm kind of in a hurry. Um, is there a subway line I could catch to get there a little faster?

Man: Sure. You can take the N & R uptown and get off at the third stop. That should leave you off at about 5th Avenue. You'll see the hotel right in front of you.

Woman: You know, do you think if I took a cab, I could get there faster?

Man: You could. But in today's traffic, I wouldn't.

Woman: All right. Thanks for your help.

Man: No problem.
